WINTER'S WORST STORMS SPREAD HEAVY DAMAGE

(By The Associated Press)

The winter season's worst storm dealt staggering blows over wide areas of the western and central parts of the country today.

A snow-wind storm, after striking with full force across the Pacific northwest, roared into the Rocky mountain states, Oregon, Washington, parts of Idaho, northern California and northern Nevada reeled from the impact of the blustery weather.

Blizzard conditions were forecast for Montana and Wyoming. The storm hit western Montana last night, with strong winds and blowing, drifting snow. Temperatures ranged from 20 to 25 below zero in northern Montana.

A blizzard blew into Minnesota and colder weather spread across most of the north central region.

The colder weather also was expected in the flooded areas of the Ohio river valley, sending temperatures down to around normal from yesterday's spring-like readings. Rain, which had doused the watershed for several days, had ended. More families left their homes as waters spilled over lowlands. Other river areas braced for major floods.

The blizzard which hammered the Pacific northwest was blamed for at least five deaths, all in Washington. Highway traffic was snarled throughout the storm belt. Air travel was halted and train service curtailed.

Across the continent, storm warnings were hoisted on the Atlantic coast from Maine to North Carolina. Winds of 40 miles an hour were reported.

A cottony fog hung over New York, halting operations at the city's busy airports and hampering ship movements in the harbor. The weather bureau said the fog was caused by a mass of warm, moist air from the south. Gales off Iceland and Newfoundland slowed ocean liners and ships arrived in New York one to four days behind schedule.

More freezing weather appeared in prospect tonight in the California citrus districts. Heavy snow ranging up to six feet on the level blocked many roads in northern California. Strong winds with gusts up to 60 mph whipped the northern coast and heavy rain fell all along the coast.

WILL CONSIDER VACCINATION OF COUNTY FLOCKS

Adams county's poultrymen will be asked to decide February 6 whether they wish to vaccinate their chickens for infectious bronchitis.

Roy H. Heckenluber, president of the Adams County Poultry Federation today asked the flock owners to begin consideration of the question in order to reach a mature decision at a meeting February 6 at 8 p. m. in the court house here.

Infectious bronchitis has already appeared in Adams county, he said. The question of whether or not to vaccinate as a county is an important one, because the action of any on grower will effect every poultryman in the county, Heckenluber said.

Has Effect On All

"If one man vaccinates, his flock will have a mild attack of the disease," the county federation chairman said, "and all poultrymen around him, if they do not vaccinate at the same time, will have a bad attack of the infectious bronchitis. Thus the question is one of county-wide importance. Whatever we do, we must all do together if we are to prevent serious losses."

Flocks can be vaccinated while on the range in June or July prior to their egg-laying days, and after recovering from the mild attack are immune to the disease and suffer no ill effects. When hens that are already laying eggs contract the disease it cuts out their egg production entirely.

Expect Higher Prices

The Arendtsville area poultryman who was elected as a director for the Northeastern Poultry producers (NEPPCO) by the Pennsylvania Poultry Federation at its meetings at Harrisburg this week at the Farm Show, reported that information released at the state federation meeting indicated that the price of eggs is expected to increase from the present post-war low. The collapse of the broiler market, which threw a large number of eggs which would have gone into broilers onto the open egg market, was partially responsible for the depression in egg prices, he said the reports at Harrisburg showed.

With national organizations, including large chain stores, backing a nation-wide advertising campaign to sell broilers and with the price of broilers being reduced to promote the market, it is expected that the production of broilers will begin again on a larger scale, thus easing the egg market. In addition, Heckenluber noted, the government has resumed purchases of eggs to bring the price to a higher level.

Keep Snow Shovel Handy For Weather Records Say There's 1 To 5 Feet Of Snow Ahead

It's too soon to put that snow shovel out of reach—and the kids that got new sleds for Christmas have every reason to expect plenty of snow for coasting before the winter is over.

The Gettysburg Times weather records show:

- 1) No winter since weather records were started 46 winters ago has had less than a foot of snow in Gettysburg.
- 2) Average Gettysburg winters call for about 33 inches of snow.
- 3) Gettysburg is far overdue for a winter with bountiful snow—the last time average snow totals were topped here was five years ago.
- 4) Only three other winters in the last 46 years got through to mid-January with as little snow as this one but they wound up with from 13 to 42 inches of snow each.

Twenty years ago, winter started out almost snowless here. There was a half-inch in November, none in December and no snow in January until the 22nd but the month's total climbed to over five inches and that winter saw a total snowfall here of 20 inches.

Thirty-one years ago there was no snow until January but seven inches came that month and the total for that winter was 13.7 inches.

The winter of 1913-1914 got through to January 1 with a quarter inch of snow but January had five inches that winter, February added 23 inches and March put the winter's total up to 42 inches.

Gettysburg snowfalls have ranged from a minimum of 12 inches the winter of 1930-31 to 62.8 inches in 1917-1918 when high snow banks lined the streets throughout the winter.

Last year Gettysburg had 20.3 inches and the total for 1947-1948 was 24.1 inches. The last above-average winter as far as snowfall is concerned was that of 1944-45 when the total was 36 inches. December had 7 inches that winter; January, 23; February, 6 with traces of snow in November and March.

This winter's total snow to date is a half inch recorded on December 2—and Groundhog Day is less than three weeks off.

MORE THAN 800 ATTEND PLAY IN NEW AUDITORIUM

An appreciative audience of more than 800 attended the play, "Life of the Party," a three-act comedy presented Friday evening in the Arendtsville Memorial auditorium by the students of the Upper Adams joint high school. Considering the inclement weather school officials were pleased with the turnout.

Enthusiastic laughter and applause by a responsive audience indicated a "smash hit" for the high school thespians and their directors, Mrs. Doris Haas and Miss Eleanor Steele. Not only were the students well selected for their roles they also demonstrated that they had mastered their parts.

A new ceiling in the auditorium improved the acoustics.

Presentation of the play in the auditorium was an innovation in high school policy. Previously school plays were presented two nights to accommodate the crowd. Last night's venture of using the Arendtsville auditorium proved successful and may have started a precedent.

Will Observe LIBRARY DAY

Adams county's free public library will celebrate Pennsylvania Public Library day January 17, on the anniversary of the birthday of Benjamin Franklin.

Special exhibits will be placed at the library in observance of the date, Mrs. William H. Snyder, librarian, said.

Franklin's birthday was chosen as Public Library day throughout the state because of Franklin's establishment, in 1731, of the first circulating library in the English speaking countries—actually the first public library in the world.

A proclamation by Governor Duff setting January 17 aside as Public Library day, praises Franklin's act for "the advancement of culture and education through reading" and also pays tribute to Andrew Carnegie, another prominent Pennsylvanian, whose "desire to promote education beyond schooling" led him to finance more than 2,500 library buildings here and abroad.

The observance of Pennsylvania Public Library day is scheduled to emphasize especially the services rendered the people of the Commonwealth by its 350 public libraries during the past 50 years, the Pennsylvania Library association, which is backing the observance, noted today.

CASHTOWN FIRE COMPANY PLANS FAIR FEB. 2-4

Final plans for the annual fair to be held by the Cashtown Community Fire company February 2, 3 and 4 will be completed Tuesday evening at a meeting of the company. It was announced today. Officers for the coming year will be nominated at that meeting.

Mervin Singley, president of the company, today reported on the need for the funds raised by the annual fair sponsored by the firemen, who have spent nearly $12,000 improving their equipment over the past three years.

In 1946, the company purchased a Ford chassis and had a body built and an American Marsh front end pump mounted to replace the old Brockway which had been used by the company for 20 years. The cost of the new fire engine was $5,000, Singley said.

Show Sets Record

Friday's affairs brought the 34th annual Pennsylvania farm show to a close. Officials estimated 525,000 persons saw the exposition, and added that the show had the largest exhibit of livestock, the largest premium list, the biggest dairy cattle show, the greatest number of cash awards for premiums and about 100 more commercial exhibitors than ever before.

A national record was revealed at the farm show when Oscar Lauger, Youngville, Warren county, won the potato production honors with a record of 859.5 bushels from one acre. That tops all production of potatoes in the U.S. on non-irrigated land.

One farm crop was recommended for an increase in production—beef cattle. Speakers at the Pennsylvania Hereford Breeders Association meeting at the farm show urged greatly increased production and Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst said 100,000 more breeding females of the beef cattle breeds could be used in Pennsylvania.

MINE CAVE-IN TRAPS 2; ONE ESCAPES SLIDE

Mahanoy City, Pa., Jan. 14 (AP)—Two miners are trapped 100 feet beneath the earth's surface today and more than 100 rescue workers are digging into the side of Broad Mountain in an effort to reach them.

The rescue workers were spurred on by tapplings believed made by the trapped men, Joseph Burda, 30, and his brother, Edward, 25. The cave-in occurred yesterday at the old Boston colliery on Broad Mountain.

Another brother, Frank, 19, was caught up to his knees by the falling debris but managed to save himself by literally jumping out of his boots. He reported the first onrush of debris almost trapped his legs. But he was able to "squirm out of his boots and make his way to the surface."

Hear Tappings

Rescue workers said the tapplings of the trapped brothers indicated they may have been able to get into gangways leading from the affected slope.

It was hoped that oxygen supplies in these gangways would last until the rescuers were able to reach the brothers. Pessimistic diggers said it might take two or three days to reach the trapped men.

Officials of the independent mine said the men were working along a slope 100 feet below the surface when the cave-in took place. It occurred 30 feet down and sent tons of debris into the opening.

State Mine Inspector Ben Reinhold of Mahanoy City is directing the rescue operation.

HONORED BY ARCHITECTS

MINERS' PLANS ARE UNCERTAIN

Pittsburgh, Jan. 14 (AP)—Will the 69,000 striking soft coal miners resume their three-day work week?

The coal hungry nation should get its answer Monday. Coal people are almost unanimous that the nation is short of the precious fuel despite President Truman's assertion to the contrary.

John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers' president, suggested a few days ago the striking miners resume their three-day work week on Monday.

A Lewis suggestion always has been tantamount to an order in the past. Will it work again?

For the first time in many years there seems to be a doubt in some minds that all the miners will heed their leader's suggestion.

Lewis, suffering a personal loss in the death of his mother, made no comment on the situation. He assumed the usual I have spoken attitude.

The rumblings of discontent came from some sections of West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Many mine locals will hold meetings today and tomorrow to decide whether to follow Lewis' suggestion. Some UMW leaders say they can't predict what will happen.

Asks Immunity On Formosa Testimony

Washington, Jan. 14 (AP)—Senator Brewster (R-Me.) said today to military officials due to testify on Formosa in the Senate should be promised immunity from punishment if they differ with President Truman's policy.

Brewster told reporters he doesn't want military men appearing before the Foreign Relations committee to get into trouble as did Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, Denfeld was removed as Chief of Naval Operations after he publicly opposed Pentagon policies, but defense chiefs denied that "reprisals" were involved.

The committee yesterday called General Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint Chiefs of Staff, and Secretary of Defense Johnson to testify Jan. 26 on the strategic importance of Formosa.

Their goal is to manufacture a potato chip that has a better potato flavor, that will stay crisp and remain fresh longer.

Important items on the list of immediate studies are the types of potatoes that make the best chips, types of fats or oils used in cookings, and packaging materials, including the effect of exposure to light on packaged chips.

FIGHT TODAY IN LOWER HOUSE

Washington, Jan. 14 (AP)—President Truman's "Fair Deal" program was at stake today in a struggle for control of the House between administration Democrats and a coalition of Republicans and southerners. The GOP-Dixie team struck the first blow yesterday with a move to restore to the rules committee its former power to bottle up House legislation.

While the immediate aim of the southerners is to block action on a bill to end job discrimination, they made clear that they are prepared to join with the Republicans against other major parts of the Truman program if their strategy is successful. They were confident that it will succeed. Administration leaders were silent but obviously worried. Directly at issue is a rule pushed through the House last year by administration leaders who felt that too much of their "must" legislation was being stalled in the rules group by Republican-southern teamwork. Formerly such bills could be jarred loose only by a hard-to-get petition signed by more than half the House members.

The new rule enables committee chairmen to call for a House vote on any bill which has been before the rules group for 21 days. Under that rule, the administration-backed Fair Employment Practices (FEPC) bill—a key item in Mr. Truman's civil rights program—is due to be voted on in the House January 23.

Emmaus, Pa., Jan. 14 (AP)—Mrs. Bertie Pollock, 45, Pottstown, was injured fatally and her husband injured critically yesterday in an automobile collision on Route 29, six miles south of here. State Policeman Michael J. Wargo who identified the dead woman, said the husband is in the Allentown hospital where Mrs. Pollock succumbed four hours after the accident.

Easton, Pa., Jan. 14 (AP)—Fred C. Shotwell, a retired educator in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, died today in Easton hospital. A resident of Palmer Township, Pa., Shotwell taught at Easton high school from 1916 to 1920, when he left to become principal of Woodbridge, N. J., high school.

Easton, Pa., Jan. 14 (AP)—John McClary, 31, is in Easton hospital with infantile paralysis. His illness, reported yesterday, is the first case of the disease to be recorded in this area this year.

GOP Slate-Making Talks Underway

Hershey, Pa., Jan. 14—It's slate-making time for top echelon Republican leaders today.

GOP leaders supporting the candidacy of Gov. James H. Duff for U. S. Senator gathered in the luxurious surroundings of the Hershey hotel to talk once again about picking a gubernatorial running mate for a Duff.

A similar meeting a week ago failed to produce a candidate. There were no expectations that the Republican county chairmen invited to the new conference will pick someone suitable to the force of former U. S. Sen. Joseph R. Grundy and U. S. Sen. Edward Martin.

The Duff faction split with the Grundy-Martin camp at the 1948 Republican national convention in opposition to the presidential nomination of Thomas E. Dewey.

Washington, Jan. 14 (AP)—President Truman's talk of rosy Democratic prospects in Ohio was countered today by Republican Senator Taft's claim that he could be re-elected now—and will win in November. Taft told reporters he sees no reason why the conditions which he thinks already favor his bid for a new six-year Senate term won't be even better when voting time rolls around.

Washington, Jan. 14 (AP)—An investigation of reports of unauthorized tapping of Congressional telephones was demanded Friday by Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.), following complaints by several colleagues. Rankin drafted a resolution calling on the House Un-American Activities committee to make the investigation. He said he would introduce it when the House reconvenes next Monday.

Warriors Smash Waynesboro's Unbeaten Record In 40-38 Win; In 4-Way Tie For League Lead

Playing their best game of the season, an under-dog Gettysburg high school basketball team knocked Waynesboro high school from the unbeaten class here Friday evening 40-38 in one of the most thrilling contests played on the local floor in a long time.

The largest crowd of the season, approximately 900 fans, witnessed the upset which moves the Warriors into a 4-way tie for first place in the South Penn circuit.

From start to finish the score was close although early in the first period Gettysburg held an 8-1 margin. The score was deadlocked six times and changed hands five times with the outcome in doubt until the final whistle.

Kenny Deardorff's all-around work was superb but credit must also go to each other player who broke into the lineup. Deardorff hit the cords for 18 points and saved a probable tying goal in the final seconds by stealing the ball from Gardenhour in key play.

Long Stretch Ends
Coach Cal Welliver's team came here with a record of nine straight victories, longest in Waynesboro history, and was the district favorite. The height advantage of the Tornado was particularly bothersome to the Warriors but they simply scrapped their way to a well-earned victory.

The Forney-men started fast after Shank had netted a foul for the visitors. Leo Kuhn landed a one-handed and a foul. Deardorff followed with three free throws and a long side shot before Pryor netted Waynesboro's first goal after five and one-half minutes. Another goal by Pryor and a foul by Snowberger followed by goals by Soapy Davis and Deardorff to give Gettysburg a 12-6 lead at the quarter.

Waynesboro spurted in the second quarter and finally caught the Warriors at 15-15 when Ditch converted two fouls after two and one-half minutes. The lead then saw-sawed but a long toss by Oiler, foul by Snowberger and a peep by Snowberger put Waynesboro in front 22-20 at half time. Snowberger's goal came just before the half ended and the team left the floor only to be recalled to finish out barely two seconds of play.

Deardorff opened the third period with a long shot but Ditch landed a short toss a minute later. Bobby Sachs knotted the count on a one-handed stab and the Warriors moved ahead on a short chuck by Dick Harrier. Snowberger tied it up 26-26 on a side shot. Gardenhour hit from outside and Bill Williams duplicated for Gettysburg. A foul by Snowberger gave Waynesboro a 29-28 edge at the end of the third round.

Warriors Spurt
Snowberger looped a short toss for the Tornado to open the fourth period and then the Warriors moved ahead. Deardorff dribbled through beautifully for a goal and when he was fouled, converted to tie the count at 31-31. A few seconds later Deardorff landed another foul. One minute more elapsed before Chet Cornwell was fouled and he looped both tries. A side shot by Deardorff made the count 36-31 with four minutes remaining.

Waynesboro spurted dangerously when Gardenhour sank a foul and added a jump shot. Again Deardorff was fouled and looped the first of two. Shank whipped an over-head toss, through to cut the Warriors' lead to 37-36 with a minute to go. Deardorff then came up with a beautiful play when he took the ball from Gardenhour as he was dribbling through. Stalling for time enabled Cornwell to get free under the hoop and he landed the goal and foul with half a minute left. The wild remaining seconds produced a pair of fouls by Snowberger as time ran out.

Jayvees Triumph
In another thrilling game the Warrior reserves handed the Waynesboro Jayvees their first league setback 32-29.

Baugh Decides To Stay With 'Skins

Waco, Tex., Jan. 14 (AP)—Sammy Baugh says he'll stick to playing pro football, so you can now make your own guess as to who will be Baylor University's new football coach.

There's nearly a dozen applicants for the $12,000 a year job and almost that many possibilities.

Baugh, pro football's top passer, telephoned Dr. W. R. White, Baylor president, yesterday and removed himself from consideration for the job. He said he felt dutybound to stay with Washington, where he has starred for 13 years.

"I respect Baugh's attitude in the matter," said Dr. White, "but that leaves us right where we started on the coaching problem."

JR. HI CAGERS HAND TWIN JOLT TO WAYNESBORO

The unbeaten Gettysburg junior high dribblers won their third straight twin bill Friday evening at the expense of Waynesboro on the latter's floor.

After playing a fine game as a unit in the first half when they led 21-7, Coach Rogers Herr's lads played raggedly in the second half but came through with a 27-19 decision. Dayhoff was the lone consistent performer throughout the entire game.

In the preliminary game the Jayvees played brilliantly on both offense and defense to win 34-10, Williams and Rohrbaugh taking the lead. Coach Herr used his entire squad.

On Tuesday evening Mechanicsburg high will come here for two games.

Chicago, Jan. 14 (AP)—Bowling's richest meet, the $44,800 Louis P. Petersen classic, starts today.

A total of 1,792 bowlers from 25 states, including 12 former winners, will compete during the 18 days of firing. First prize is $5,000. Running concurrently with the Petersen is the $26,000 Dom De Vito meet with a $3,000 championship payoff.

Pebble Beach, Calif., Jan. 14 (AP)—Slammin' Sam Snead, the long ball hitter, and Ben Hogan, the ex-champ who's coming back, were the big attractions today as play opened in the second round of the 54-hole Bing Crosby invitational golf tournament.

A winter storm sweeping down from the northwest—the worst of the year—threatened to put a crimp in both play and the size of the crowds.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 14 (AP)—The gold rush days are over for the Pittsburgh Pirates. That's straight from H. Roy Hamey, general manager of the Bucs, who says he plans to have a "little fun" the next few weeks. The "fun" Hamey talks about is dealing with dissatisfied Pirates for 1950.

The Pirate front office boss says some of the Bucs need awakening and indicates he's done considerable along that line by mailing them contracts which slashed numerous salaries.

New York, Jan. 14 (AP)—The NCAA's sizzling internal wrangle over the sanity code reached its climax today with the nation's smaller colleges in a position to kill off a potent southern uprising.

New Oxford and Bolling Springs, who clash Tuesday at New Oxford, are deadlocked for the leadership in the Adams County Basketball league as a result of games played last night.

Coach Marty Flegal's New Oxford team nosed out York Springs 47-46 in a thriller played on the New Oxford court. Throughout the contest the score was close, York Springs taking a 34-31 lead at the close of the third quarter. Sparked by Mummert, New Oxford rallied in the final period to gain the decision.

In another one-point decision, the New Oxford Jayvees topped the York Springs scrubs 21-20.

Biglerville kept right at the heels of the leaders by drubbing Littlestown 39-25 at Littlestown. After trailing 13-11 at half time, the Yankees put on a strong finish to win going away. Heller sparking the drive.

The Biglerville reserves won the preliminary affair 23-14.

Today's Talk

THINGS THAT STIMULATE

What a stimulating thing a little hope is, when given at the right time! If we had nothing to stimulate our minds, and to lift us in heart, what a drab and discouraging life we would live. Let us be thankful that there are an endless number of ways by which we can be stimulated toward both success and happiness.

Nature is saturated with beauty, mystery, and wonder. All great naturalists are inspiring people to talk with and to read. They see so much and are kept in such a state of stimulation by all about them, for there are continual surprises that face them.

I am happy that I seem to have been born with a love of books and art, and nature has been a lifetime joy to me. Never am I so happy as when I am close to her—her lakes, rivers, her sea, her forests, and her fields of flowers. Nature is never dull. Though silent, she speaks in an endless number of ways, and in a universal language. A great book could be written upon the mere leaves of trees.

My library is a silent crowd of the great of this earth, and I can turn to many a book that can stimulate my mind as nothing else. No matter what the mood, there is always a book to fit it. There are books of travel, history, science, literature, biography, poetry, and adventure. And a multitude of nature lovers and writers look over my shoulder as I write these talks from day to day.

Each year more and more people look to sporting events for stimulation. It is well, and a good sign. Clean, healthy sport should appeal to every human being, and to their profit. It is good to look upon skill, courage, and beauty of execution, no matter what the sport may be. It is an inspiration to youth to know that there is a Hall of Fame for the great in baseball.

Musical inspires. I love all music, but have a love for negro spirituals that I would not substitute for the grandest grand opera! I glory in a good brass band, too, one of my earlier loves. A great performer on the flute or violin is like listening to a heavenly poem put to music. Few things stimulate as does music. We think and work better after listening to it.

A ring upon his hand;
Two symbols everyone can note
And seeing, understand.

Though mute the pin on his lapel,
The ring with figures trim,
To all who look on them they tell
That men have faith in him.

No matter what the lodge may be,
Fraternity or clan,
Who wears its emblem shows that he
Has vowed to be a man.

Not lightly worn such things should be,
Nor just for pride's display.
So trusted, man must live that he
Will not his friends betray.

Hazards In Idle Car

With street and highway accidents reaching such staggering proportions, it isn't any wonder that millions of car owners are blind to the numerous hazards involved in working on automobiles or in handling them in such comparatively "safe" locations as parking lots and garages. Experience demonstrates that you can't be too careful around cars, even if they're idle.

That yawning alligator hood may drop down on your neck. You may topple over into a grease pit. You may easily catch a stray finger in a car door. But not all the second-string motor hazards are so obvious. Battery acid is a good example. That is one reason you should never try to blow off bits of dislodged corrosion from the battery posts. Much slower movement of car in garages would be a boon to safety because of the risk of slipping on greasy flooring. Burns from touching hot motor manifolds are common, and the whirling fan is always a risk. When working around the motor never wear a wrist watch with a metal band, or a finger ring.

Meet A Lean Mixture

When your mechanic says that the engine acts as if it suffered from a lean mixture he doesn't mean that he will merely twist the idling mixture screw and you'll be on your car. Leanness can result from a wide variety of conditions, including clogged carburetor jets, undervalued jets, late ignition timing, vapor lock, air leakage around the intake manifold system, a too low float level or—believe it or not—loose valve cover plates. What happens when these plates are loose is that there is more chance for air to suck into the cylinders around worn valve stem guides.

Picked Up En Route

Those monogrammed initials you see on more and more cars remind one of the old days when no well-equipped car was without its owner's personal identification. Many a driver who watched a 1925 car go whizzing by them on one of the top hills is beginning to believe in the fact that the good old days may have been better. . . . Baton Rouge, Louisiana, is known as the anti-knock city because it is the world's largest center for the manufacture of anti-knock compounds. . . . One of the best articles recently published on New Jersey safety campaign appeared in Auto magazine of Belgium.

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"Fast drivers will be interested to know that speed will often make a piston ring shimmy. The action is one of instability in which the ring doesn't seat normally and thus allows loss of compression. This action often accounts for higher than normal oil consumption. Of course, it is true that an engine will use nearly seven times as much oil at 55 miles per hour as it does at 30, but when ring shimmy comes into the picture, the rate of oil consumption may be ever higher. It is this ring action, too, which sometimes results in ring breakage. The resulting knock can easily be mistaken for rod or wrist pin trouble."

This Way To Savings

Before you jump to the conclusion that the rattling of the drive line indicates excessive backlash be sure the engine is properly tuned up.

Loose tail pipes are a common cause of what seems to be serious rear-end noises in the car. Check the muffler supports, too.

Stalling of the engine when first starting may be annoying but it is a short cut to saving wear. Between cranks the oil system has a chance to catch up.

Here's Your Manual

For the benefit of thousands of readers who are eagerly seeking service manuals for their particular cars, I'd like to mention the 12th edition of Motor Auto Repair Manual, that famous book which covers all American makes of passenger cars from 1935 right down to date. While it is true that most owners are interested merely in one make there is everything of essential value usually found in any particular factory service manual. Also since a large section of Motor's manual covers power tops, brakes, automatic chokes carburetor, wheel alignment, windshield wipers, etc., the thing becomes any motorist's book of knowledge. Even the orphaned cars of recent memory are included—Cord, LaSalle, Pierce-Arrow, Graham, Auburn, Hupmobile, Terraplane, LaFayette and Reo.

Another False Alarm

The way our cars spoof us is certainly one of the chief topics of conversation wherever motorists meet. Latest to come to my attention is the story of an owner who heard an astonishing racket whenever he turned on the car heater. The thing sounded so serious he took the car to the service station immediately, only to find that a piece of burlap from around the seat cushion springs had dangled in such a way that it caught in the fan of the under-seat heater.

Proof Of The Pudding

For years the engineers specializing in cooling systems for all types of engines have been telling me that one of the weak spots in the automobile industry is the lack of attention paid to this important function of the engine. Some of these chaps go so far as to point out glaring weaknesses in the cooling systems of cars we assume are the last word. It has always been a little difficult to believe that car designers do not give motor cooling proper consideration, but now I have some evidence of it. In a recent publicity story from a car factory's advertising agency, a service manager is quoted as saying that an advantage of using permanent type anti-freeze is that it can be left in the cooling system all summer. Hold everything! Even the makers of permanent anti-freeze warn against this. No coolant of any kind should be used all year. It becomes acid and may eat into the head gasket.

Odd But True

High tension wiring insulation deteriorates faster than that on low tension wiring because of the corona effect. This is a form of aura or when the engine is operating only when the engine is operating in darkness.

Worn wheel bearings will have an effect on brake adjustments and the action of the brakes.

Motor Question Box

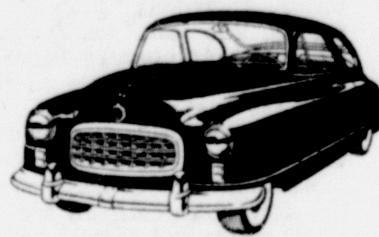

Q Are self-locking tappets generally used on the latest cars?

H. L. A. No. Many engines still have the regular type tappet with locking nut, and then there are the engines with hydraulic valve lifters which need no adjusting at all.

Q What would cause a thumping noise in the rear of my car. Luggage compartment lid is tight. Shocks have been replaced. The spare is tight. J. D. R.

Littlestown FINAL SERVICE OF WEEK HELD

"The Great Invitation" based on St. Luke 14:17, "Come for all things are now ready," was the theme of the sermon by the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Schaeffer, Philadelphia, secretary emeritus of the Home Mission board of the Reformed church, for the closing service of the preaching mission, held Friday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran church, sponsored by the Littlestown ministerium. The auditorium was again nearly filled with approximately 80 on the balcony. The text was taken from the "Parable of the Great Feast." In answer to the question, "What things are ready?" the speaker said, "Salvation is ready. Religion is ready. You don't get religion, but religion gets you. Religion is more than a creed or a doctrinal statement. Neither can it be confined to just a part of you. It must control, saturate and overpower you. It must embrace our whole life, will and personality. Our religion is here; ready for us to appropriate."

"Unfortunately," he said, "there were some who didn't see fit to accept the invitation. They made alibis. One said that he couldn't come because he had to try a piece of land which he had bought. A second person was more interested in his five yoke of oxen than he was in his salvation. The third person asked to be excused because he had just married a wife.

"These alibis are typical of the excuses that people give today for not accepting the Great Invitation," Dr. Schaeffer said. "Today many say, 'I will wait awhile to become a Christian as I'm not good enough to become a Christian now.' If you wait until you are a saint, you will never get into the church. The church is made up of saints and sinners alike. Others say, 'I want to take my fling now, and when I get older, I will become a Christian.' Such persons are ungrateful as they plan to give the best years of their life to the world and only the tag-end to the Lord. Still others say, 'I can't hold out; it's too much of a strain to be a Christian. If you must fall a hundred times, rise up again and again. Don't despise the Great Invitation regardless of what you want to do.'"

This concluding service was in charge of the Rev. Harvey B. Simons, pastor of the Centenary Methodist church, assisted by the host pastor, the Rev. David S. Kammerer. Psalm 61 was read responsively and the Rev. Mr. Simons read a scripture lesson from the 14th chapter of St. Luke. A trio consisting of Mrs. L. Robert Snyder, Mrs. Paul Kammerer and Mrs. Edgar E. Yealy sang, "I Heard a Forest Praying" by Lewis and DeRose. They were accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Karl Bankert, organist, who also played for the congregational singing. St. Paul's choir led the congregational singing.

The Rev. Mr. Kammerer announced that the union vesper services will begin Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Centenary Methodist church with the sermon by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Reformed church.

Washington, Jan. 14 (AP)—GI dividend checks are exempt from seizure for payment of debts, the Veterans Administration said Friday. It said that it issued the announcement "after noting that some veterans have directed that their checks be mailed to certain business establishments in various localities."

York Springs—Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Smith were Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Hall and son, Smith, Prince Frederick, Md. Mrs. Hall was formerly Miss T. Ruth Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

The local Girl Scout troop sponsored a public card party recently at the community fire hall.

Townpeople have been working this week to assist the Willing Workers organization of the Lutheran church to conduct their rummage sale in Harrisburg next Thursday for the benefit of the carpet fund for the church. Donors have been bringing clothing, shoes and household accessories from their homes to the Lutheran parsonage where it is accumulated for the sale. As much as can be brought is desired, and particularly in demand are men's work clothes and children's clothing. The articles do not have to be in good repair, but it is requested that they be clean. The last date for delivery at the parsonage is Wednesday, January 18.

Riding With Russell

Q. Does an oil filter have a cooling effect on the oil, if it is the external type? Wm. L.

A. The answer is "yes." One of the newest filters on the market is designed to stress this effect. It is of special metal and has cooling fins.

Q. I broke the wings of the radiator drain plug and can't seem to get a new plug of the same type. Meanwhile want to drain off the system and replace with a better kind of anti-freeze. Is there any way to syphon out the coolant?

M. L. A. Why go to all that trouble when you can open the drain at the rear of the motor block?

Q. The engine of my car shows every evidence of having developed a lean mixture, even though the carburetor has been overhauled and the valve timing isn't late. There also definitely are no leaks around the intake manifold. Any ideas?

G. R. A. How about a weak fuel pump? Low output will cause leanness.

Q. Tests show that there is considerable loss of compression in my car's engine, and not because of the valves. Also there is too much oil pumping. Yet rings appear to be reasonably good. Timing is all right. Cylinder bores not worn. Wm. L. K.

A. This appears to be one of those cases where we must look a little deeper. Just to keep you digging into the subject, how about the possibility of sprung connecting rods?

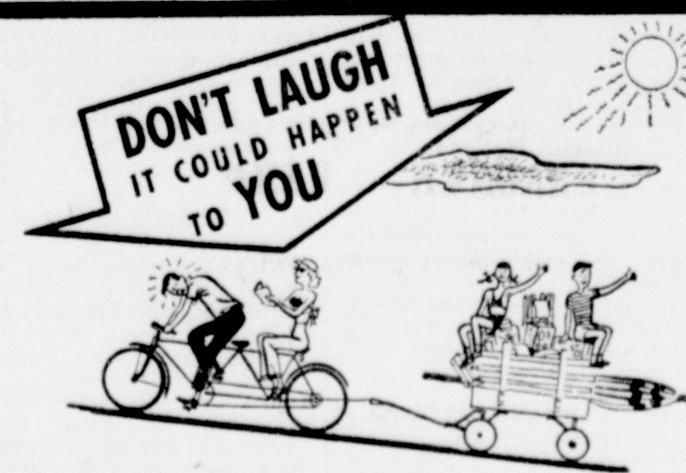

Q. I have been going into the subject of automobiles from a technical angle and find your articles of some help in getting a better picture of the engine. Wish you would discuss more technical matters. A question on my mind is what is the maximum pressure of combustion? H. G. D.

A. Combustion pressure runs about four times compression pressure. I'm glad to hear from you and will keep your thought in mind. However, don't forget that this column covers driving, car maintenance, travel, new accessories, safety and a lot else in addition to the human side of motoring.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern street, West Hartford, 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.
